BERLIN, via London, July 20. 5 p. m.—Further progress in the great German drive toward Warsaw from the north and south was announced officially here today. The German war office reports the capture of Ostrolenka, on the Narew river, about sixty miles north of Warsaw. In the south the Russians are in retreat.

The text of the statement follows:

"Western theater of war:

"After blowing up mines near Chateau Hooge, east of Ypres, the British made an attack on both sides of the road from Chateau Hooge to Ypres. Their attack collapsed before our positions. At some points the attack, within range of our artillery, could not be carried through. The British occupied an excavation made by an explosion.

"Near Souchez an attack with hand grenades was repulsed. After vigorous fighting near Albert, the French attempted during the evening an attack against our positions near Fricourt. They were repulsed.

"Eastern theater of war:

"In Courland, the Russians were repulsed near Grossschmarden, east of Tukum, and near Grendorf and Linsingen. East of Kurland the enemy also is retreating before our attack.

"North of Novgorod, on the Narew, German troops captured enemy positions north of the confluence of the Skroda and Pissa rivers. French Landsturm troops, which were under fire for the first time, especially distinguished themselves. North of the mouth of the Skroda, the German and Narew. The permanent fortifications of Ostrolenka, on the northwest bank of the river, were captured.

"South of Ostrolenka, our troops advanced two hostile positions to Blonie and Groje, about 17 miles west of Warsaw and Groje 26 miles south of the city. In rear guard fighting the Russians lost 560 prisoners and two machine guns.

"Southwestern theater of war:

"German Landwehr and reserve troops of the army of General von Woyrich repulsed superior forces of the enemy from their positions at Ilaunka. All counter attacks made by Russian reserves, which were brought up quickly, were repulsed. We captured more than 5000 prisoners. Our troops are closely pursuing the enemy. Our cavalry has reached the railway line from Radom to Iwan-sorod.

"Between the Upper Vistula and the Bug we are following the retreating enemy."

BASES FOR RIGA ATTACK

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 20, 7:15 a. m.—The belief is expressed in Danish military circles, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, that the Germans intend to use Windau and Tukum as bases for operations designed to result in the capture of Riga. The chief purpose in seeking the occupation of Riga, it is believed in Copenhagen, is to use it as a new naval base after the Gulf of Riga has been cleared of mines.

BERLIN, July 19, via Amsterdam and London, July 20.—Important successes for the Teutonic allies all along the Baltic sea in Russia have been claimed by an official statement issued today by the German war office. The army General Gallwitz is said to be standing in force on the Narew line southwest of Nowo Georgievsk, one of the girdle of fortresses which protects Warsaw and only ten miles from the Polish capital.

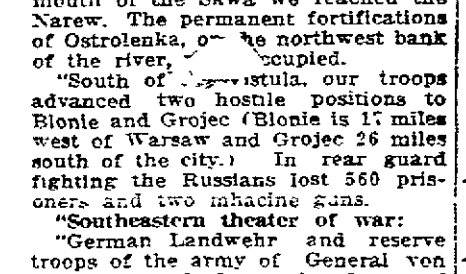

With the capture of Windau the Germans have come into possession of another report on the Baltic and are within a few miles of Riga, seat of the governor-general of the Baltic provinces. The German and Austrian forces are said to have taken prisoner 15,000 Russians. The communication follows:

Cupid Ranges in Sierras: Romance in Mountain Climb

MISS LENA REDINGTON (LENA MARTHA REDINGTON), WHOSE MARRIAGE LAST SATURDAY WAS CULMINATION OF ROMANCE.

Miss Lena Redington Is the Bride of Philip Sydney Carlton

A unique romance that received its stimulus from several Sierra Club hikes in the lofty places of the California ranges, culminated last Saturday evening in a wedding that united two well-known pioneer families. Miss Lena Martha Redington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Redington, was the bride, and Philip Sydney Carlton, brother of Dr. Harry P. Carlton, was the groom.

Though the ceremony took place at the Redington home in Perkins street in the presence of nearly forty intimate friends and relatives, news of the event was slow to leak out, as the invitations were sent out but a few days before hand. Every precaution had also been taken to keep the engagement secret. Though Mr. Carlton was known to be an old friend of the Redington family, the news last week came as a complete surprise.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Carlton are graduates of the University of California, where the bride was a member of the Gamma Phi Beta fraternity. Since receiving her degree she has taught French in the Oakland high school, where she once was a student, and where she has been one of the most popular instructors in the institution. During her career she has taken a number of extended trips abroad, on the last of these—a two-year tour of the world with Mrs. Harry Lawrence (Irene Scherer)—the complaint for an "injection" dissolved the preliminary injunction and dismissed the complaint.

The court held further that it would be improper in the matter for him to express any opinion as to whether any challenged provisions of the ordinance are valid or invalid.

THOUSAND REMINGTON EMPLOYEES QUIT JOBS AT NOON

By Associated Press.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 20.—While labor leaders announced today that approximately 1000 machinists employed in the shops of the Remington Arms and Ammunition Company and four sub-contractors had walked out on strike, indications were that disunion in accomplishing the aims of the union men had been experienced in some of the plants.

An official of the Remington Company denied emphatically that any of the men in that plant had walked out.

Rumor had it that Major W. G. Penfield, manager of the Remington plant, had offered the machinists an eight-hour day with other concessions, and that they had decided to remain. Sub-contractors, on the other hand, admitted that all of their machinists had walked out.

Among the sub-contracting firms admitting that their men had struck were the Gaynor Manufacturing Co., making bullets for the armies of the allies, and the Columbia Nut and Bolt Company. These concerns employ between them more than 200 men.

The walkout was accomplished without the slightest sign of disorder. The men on strike demand an eight-hour day, double time for overtime, recognition of the union and settlement of the jurisdictional dispute over the millwrights.

Another hundred bricklayers were laid off at the Remington plant this afternoon.

A hundred of the 500 men originally employed there have now been discharged. They have worked up to where the structural ironworkers left off when they went on strike.

In a statement today, J. J. Keppeler, vice-president of the Machinists' Union, said that it was not intended to call out any of the machinists working for the Lake Torpedo Boat Company, which is building submarines for the United States Government.

"We have no dispute with the lake concern," he said.

Plans were made for the men on strike to attend a mass meeting later in the day, where they would be placed on the strike benefit payroll at $5 a week.

Efforts to settle the complicated labor troubles so far have failed.

"Neither Samuel Gompers nor the President of the United States can stop this strike now," said J. J. Keppeler, international vice-president of the Machinists' Union.

DISCUSSES VISIT

"Mrs. McLaughlin came to visit my wife and family Sunday morning," he said. "She and I started to drive to the ice house, and on the way we passed the orchard, where I saw Bettencourt in among the apples, picking apples. He had contracted to do certain work on the ranch and I upbraided him for not putting the hay in the barn. He said that it was not in his contract. 'I jumped upon the wagon. We swayed and caved and evening and to scuffle. I pulled him off the wagon. He fell upon his back and I was over him with my knees on each side of his body. I slapped him in the face. Before we fell off the wagon I hit him with an empty fruit crate and he came at me with a pitchfork. After the fight was over I took my handkerchief and wiped the blood off of his face and started to roll a cigarette. I sought to punch up the quarrel, but he motioned me away.'"

HAYES HAS FAMILY.

Hayes is the father of four small children. Mrs. McLaughlin had gone to Hayward to visit the family, having become acquainted with them six months ago. She has a young daughter. Mrs. McLaughlin is 47 years of age.

For her part the woman declared that she had seen the men grapple and fall from the wagon. At first she denied this to the officers and later gave as her reason that she was not under oath and did not have to tell the truth. She became highly indignant last evening when she was ordered into custody by Assistant District Attorney Koford.

Laughlin, that you advised Hayes to string up the body so as to make it appear to be a suicide," asked Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris.

Mrs. McLaughlin vehemently denied that she had said anything at all at that time. Later she admitted that she had discussed the quarrel with Hayes on their way back home.

The quarrel and hanging up of Bettencourt consumed about 20 or 25 minutes, as near as the authorities have been able to ascertain. Manuel Viera, the boy who ran for his home and galloped home to tell his mother of the fight, consumed 15 minutes in going and returning to the orchard. When he arrived there he saw the body hanging from the tree. He then went back home and notified Constable Ramace.

BLOOD NOT CLUE.

Mrs. McLaughlin, when questioned by Deputy District Attorney W. B. Smith in Hayward yesterday at the Hayes home, refused to give satisfactory answers, and she was brought to the district attorney's office, where she was further questioned for several hours, finally being sent to the county jail.

At the time Deputy Smith interviewed Mrs. McLaughlin in Hayward, he discovered small splashes of blood upon her clothing. She took the officers into the house and showed them where she had been engaged in cleaning a freshly killed chicken when interrupted. The bloodstains were also fresh. Bettencourt had been killed 24 hours previously, and even had the woman assisted Hayes

SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES AFFECTED ALSO BY WALK-OUT

By Associated Press.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 20.—While labor leaders announced today that approximately 1000 machinists employed in the shops of the Remington Arms and Ammunition Company and four sub-contractors had walked out on strike, indications were that disunion in accomplishing the aims of the union men had been experienced in some of the plants.

An official of the Remington Company denied emphatically that any of the men in that plant had walked out.

Rumor had it that Major W. G. Penfield, manager of the Remington plant, had offered the machinists an eight-hour day with other concessions, and that they had decided to remain. Sub-contractors, on the other hand, admitted that all of their machinists had walked out.

Among the sub-contracting firms admitting that their men had struck were the Gaynor Manufacturing Co., making bullets for the armies of the allies, and the Columbia Nut and Bolt Company. These concerns employ between them more than 200 men.

The walkout was accomplished without the slightest sign of disorder. The men on strike demand an eight-hour day, double time for overtime, recognition of the union and settlement of the jurisdictional dispute over the millwrights.

Another hundred bricklayers were laid off at the Remington plant this afternoon.

A hundred of the 500 men originally employed there have now been discharged. They have worked up to where the structural ironworkers left off when they went on strike.

In a statement today, J. J. Keppeler, vice-president of the Machinists' Union, said that it was not intended to call out any of the machinists working for the Lake Torpedo Boat Company, which is building submarines for the United States Government.

"We have no dispute with the lake concern," he said.

Plans were made for the men on strike to attend a mass meeting later in the day, where they would be placed on the strike benefit payroll at $5 a week.

Efforts to settle the complicated labor troubles so far have failed.

"Neither Samuel Gompers nor the President of the United States can stop this strike now," said J. J. Keppeler, international vice-president of the Machinists' Union.

"Mrs. McLaughlin came to visit my wife and family Sunday morning," he said. "She and I started to drive to the ice house, and on the way we passed the orchard, where I saw Bettencourt in among the apples, picking apples. He had contracted to do certain work on the ranch and I upbraided him for not putting the hay in the barn. He said that it was not in his contract. 'I jumped upon the wagon. We swayed and caved and evening and to scuffle. I pulled him off the wagon. He fell upon his back and I was over him with my knees on each side of his body. I slapped him in the face. Before we fell off the wagon I hit him with an empty fruit crate and he came at me with a pitchfork. After the fight was over I took my handkerchief and wiped the blood off of his face and started to roll a cigarette. I sought to punch up the quarrel, but he motioned me away.'"

HAYES HAS FAMILY.

Hayes is the father of four small children. Mrs. McLaughlin had gone to Hayward to visit the family, having become acquainted with them six months ago. She has a young daughter. Mrs. McLaughlin is 47 years of age.

For her part the woman declared that she had seen the men grapple and fall from the wagon. At first she denied this to the officers and later gave as her reason that she was not under oath and did not have to tell the truth. She became highly indignant last evening when she was ordered into custody by Assistant District Attorney Koford.

Laughlin, that you advised Hayes to string up the body so as to make it appear to be a suicide," asked Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris.

Mrs. McLaughlin vehemently denied that she had said anything at all at that time. Later she admitted that she had discussed the quarrel with Hayes on their way back home.

The quarrel and hanging up of Bettencourt consumed about 20 or 25 minutes, as near as the authorities have been able to ascertain. Manuel Viera, the boy who ran for his home and galloped home to tell his mother of the fight, consumed 15 minutes in going and returning to the orchard. When he arrived there he saw the body hanging from the tree. He then went back home and notified Constable Ramace.

BLOOD NOT CLUE.

Mrs. McLaughlin, when questioned by Deputy District Attorney W. B. Smith in Hayward yesterday at the Hayes home, refused to give satisfactory answers, and she was brought to the district attorney's office, where she was further questioned for several hours, finally being sent to the county jail.

At the time Deputy Smith interviewed Mrs. McLaughlin in Hayward, he discovered small splashes of blood upon her clothing. She took the officers into the house and showed them where she had been engaged in cleaning a freshly killed chicken when interrupted. The bloodstains were also fresh. Bettencourt had been killed 24 hours previously, and even had the woman assisted Hayes came more spirited during the night. A French attack against Souchez was repulsed and attacks south of Souchez were prevented by our fire.

On the front between the Oise and the Argonne there was vigorous and spirited fighting. The French were repulsed in the Argonne were unimportant.

On the Meuse heights, southwest of Eparges, and on the Tranches, the fighting is proceeding with alternate successes. Our troops lost minor local advantages which they had gained on the 17th, but captured three officers and 100 men.

In the Russian war theater: "German troops occupied Tukum and captured Windau. (Windau is a seaport in Courland on the Baltic Sea at the mouth of the Windau river, 100 miles north of Mitau.) Pursuing the enemy, who was defeated on the Aa river at Altantz, our troops reached the district of Hofzumberge and northwest of Mitau, where the enemy occupied previously prepared positions.

East of Popelanz and Kuremang, the fighting continues. "Between the Pissa and Skwa, the Russians evacuated a position which had been penetrated at several points by our troops and are retreating toward the Narw. The German reserve Landwehr fighting in this district of woody and marshy ground, which is extremely favorable to the resistance of the enemy, accomplished notable deeds.

The army of General von Gallwitz, advancing further, now is standing with all its troops on the Narw line, southwest of Ostrolenska, and Novo Georgievsk. (Novo Georgievsk is a strong fortress about ten miles northwest of Warsaw at the confluence of the Vistula and the Bug.)

The Russians, who did not find protection in their fortifications and bridgehead positions, already have retreated across the Narw. (The Narw joins the Bug at Sierock, 18 miles north of Warsaw.) The number of prisoners taken by us has been increased to 101 officers and 28,160 men.

In Poland, between the Vistula and the Pilica the Russians are retreating eastward.

In the southeastern theater: "The enemy, defeated on the 17th by the army under General von Wolzow northwest of Sienno, attempted to arrest our pursuit in his previously prepared positions behind the Bzanka river. Yesterday, however, the enemy advanced positions near Cieplow. The same troops during the night entered the line near Krasnow and Baranow, which also is wavering, with a decision toward us.

Between the upper Vistula and the Bug the battle of allied troops under Field Marshal von Mackensen is proceeding with unabated violence. At the interruption point near Plaskowice and Krasnow, the Russians made desperate efforts to avert defeat. Fresh troops sent against ours were defeated, however.

Further east in the Grabowetz district troops advanced across the Bug to point north of the enemy's position. Our pursuit, the enemy retreated during the night on the entire front, stopping only at the interruption point near Krasnow, where he attempted some resistance, but suffered a defeat.

German troops and the corps under the command of Field Marshal von Arn captured from the 16th to the 18th 18,250 prisoners and 23 machine guns.

According to written orders which have come into our possession, the commanders of the enemy were resolved to maintain, without regard to losses, the positions which we now have captured.

LATAPIE ARTICLE DENIED BY POPE

By Associated Press.

PARIS, July 20, 3:05 a. m.—An autograph letter from Pope Benedict to Cardinal Amette, archbishop of Paris, contains the following:

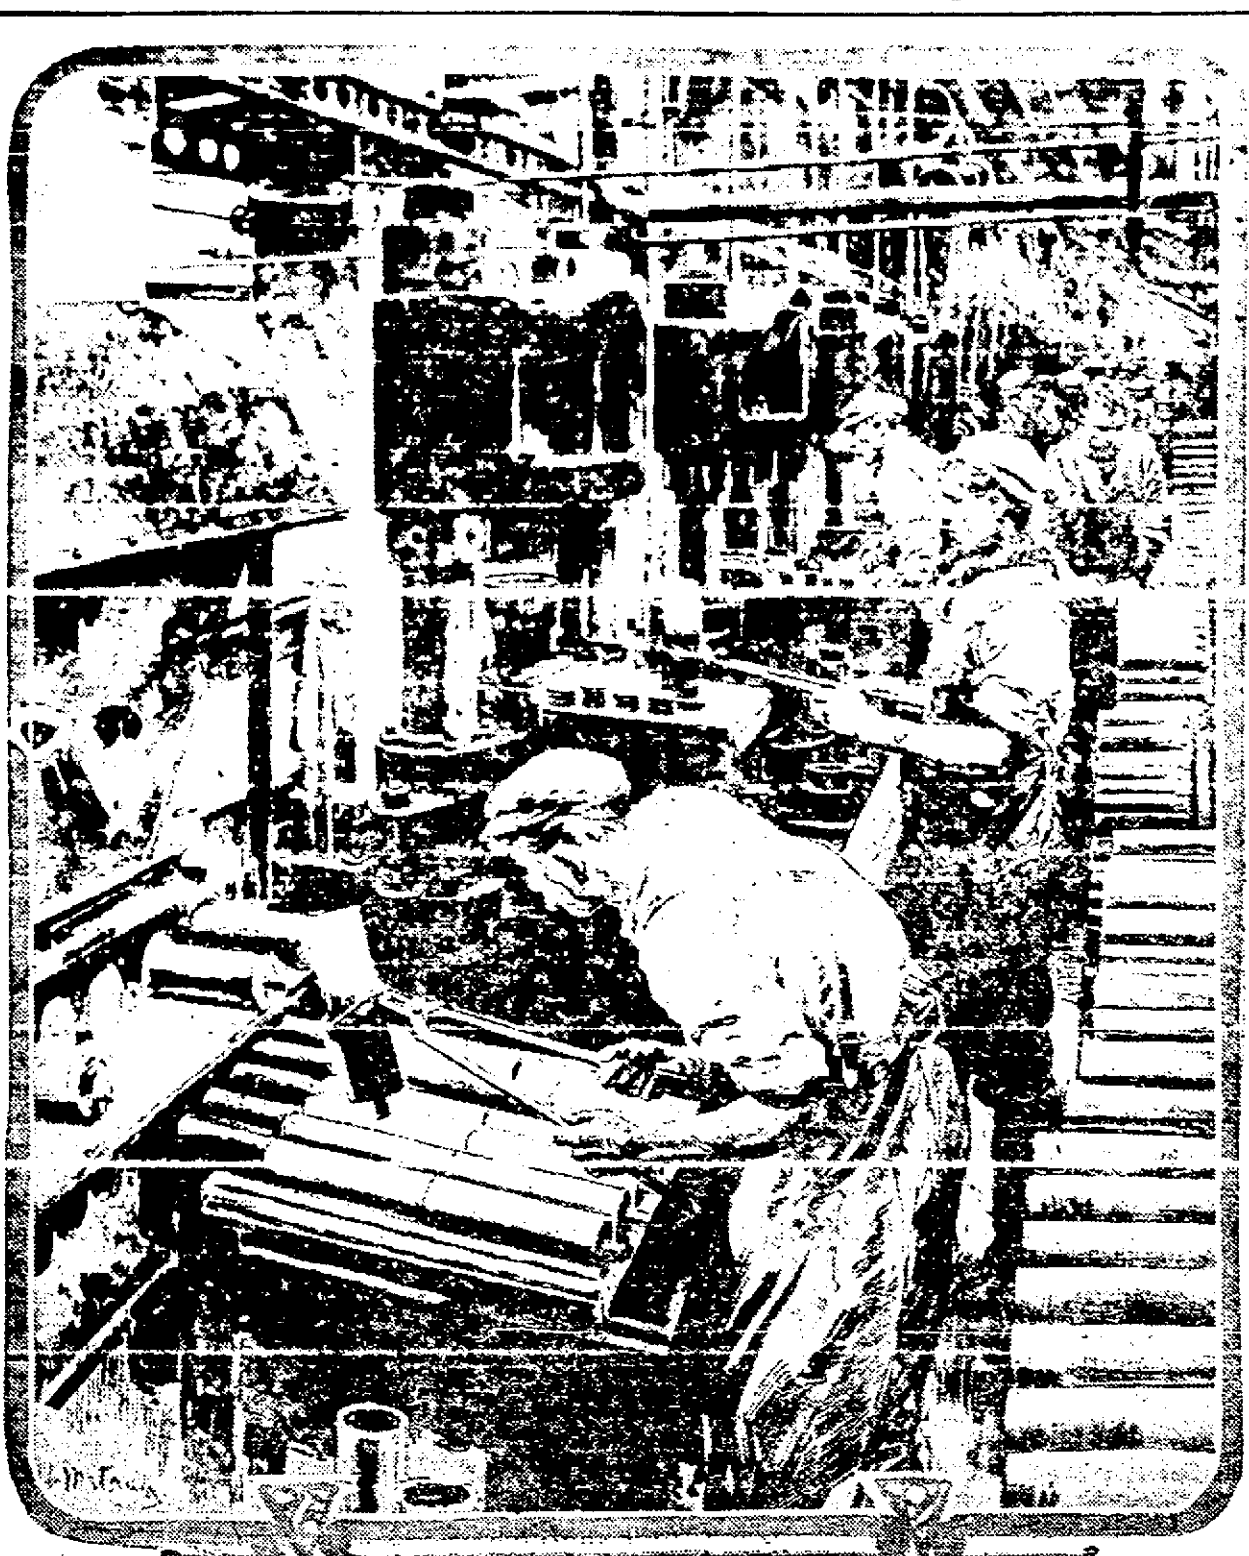

"We absolutely disavow Latapie article, which represents neither our ideas nor words, and was published without our revision or permission."

The Pope repeats his previous declaration that his views are to be found in public official statements, and not in accounts of private conversations. To make his attitude still clearer, the Pope enclosed a copy of an interview given by Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, to the Corriere d'Italia of Rome, and letters of the cardinal to the British and French ministers to the Vatican, the former condemning the invasion of Belgium and treatment of the clergy, and the latter affirming that the Pope never pronounced against the legality of the blockade of Germany.

Pope Benedict's letter was in reply to a letter from Cardinal Amette, who said that the Latapie interview had produced a painful impression in France.

La Liberté of Paris published on June 21 what was described as an interview with Pope Benedict obtained by Louis Latapie. The article attracted world-wide attention because of its extreme attitude toward the Pope. Among other things the Pope represented as declining to comment on the invasion of Belgium, on the ground that it occurred under the pontificate of Pius X; as taking the position, when questioned on the alleged cruelties of the Germans, that similar acts were said to have been committed by other nations; and that the Vatican was not a court to give judgment on contradictory assertions; and that the Italian Government had taken 20 members of the Vatican guard; and that letters addressed to the Vatican had been opened by censors.

entire production of oils and gasoline and naphtha as well as the by-products will stop.

There was some disorder at the Standard Oil plant this morning when a few of the men insisted upon going to work. Some shots were fired, but apparently they were intended only to add to the noise and excitement, as none was reported hit. The police made six arrests.

Director of Public Safety Henry Wilson of Bayonne said almost the entire police force of the city to the plant.

The strike trouble at the works first appeared last week when the still cleaners, a comparatively small part of the working force, went out because their demand for a 11 per cent increase in wages was not granted. They were followed yesterday by the men in the barrel shops, 900 in number, who had asked for 15 per cent increase. Today the rest of the employees refused to go into the works.

$750,000,000 Credit Is Voted by Commons

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 20, 1:10 p. m.—A new vote of credit of £150,000,000 ($750,000,000) was introduced today in the House of Commons.

This second supplementary vote will bring the sum actually appropriated by the parliament for war expenditures to the total of £550,000,000 ($2,750,000,000) during the current financial year. With the amount voted between August 5 and March 1 the grand total is £1,612,000,000 ($8,060,000,000).

The amount thus provided will tide over the period of the forthcoming parliamentary recess. The vote of credit does not involve new taxation but merely sanctions expenditures out of funds on hand.

In moving the new vote of credit in the House of Commons Premier Asquith announced that the first seventeen days of July the war expenditure had been £1,430,000,000 ($7,150,000,000), and that the rate of expenditure showed daily a natural tendency to rise. The item of loans to allies of Great Britain might also, the premier pointed out, grow with the advance of the allied cause of states not yet participating in the war. The premier estimated that £150,000,000 ($750,000,000) would carry Great Britain to the end of September.

ITALIAN LOAN $250,000,000.

ROME, July 20, via Paris, July 20, 2:10 a. m.—The amount subscribed to the national loan up to Monday morning was $20,000,000 ($100,000,000) according to information gathered by the Banca Italia. The sum will be increased by subscriptions made between August 1 and September 1, when the loan will be closed.

Additional figures are underwriting every day to turn out large quantities of munitions and the supply of war material of all kinds is increasing steadily. The nation prepared to pass through the period of reverse, if necessary, but never has felt more certain of ultimate victory.

Official War Statements

AUSTRIAN

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, via London, July 20.—Victories of the Teutonic allies all along the eastern battle front on the 15th "shook the strength of the enemy's resistance," according to an official Austrian war assertion is made that while the Russians brought up all the reinforcements available they were unable to hold their positions.

The text of the communication follows:

"In the Russian war theater the offensive of the allies in Poland and Volhynia (a government of Russia between Galicia and Russian Poland) was continued Sunday. West of the Vistula fighting proceeded on the Bzanka. Northwest of Bzanka, Austro-Hungarian troops captured some enemy positions.

"On the heights West of Krasnowast German troops advanced victoriously after heavy fighting.

"Between Skirgiewow and Grabowetz, in close touch with the Germans, we forced a crossing of the Volzka into the enemy's elevated positions, capturing there 3000 prisoners.

"North of Marjovian and Silesian land, after severe fighting, gained a firm footing on the east bank of the Bug. Troops under General Kirchbach captured twelve officers and 1700 men.

"The success of the allies on the 15th along the entire front shook the strength of the enemy's resistance. Although the enemy during the last few days has brought up all the reinforcements which reach he has been unable to maintain his positions and has begun a retreat.

"On the night of the 15th-16th he evacuated the battlefield.

"In East Galicia the situation generally is unchanged."

PETROGRAD, July 19, via London, July 20.—The official communication given out today follows:

"In the region of Riga and Shavil enemy columns reached the front Tukum-Doblen and advanced on the 15th southward against Hofzumberge and near the village of Odianov our cavalry made a successful incursion on the heels of the enemy on the evening of the 15th and seized an important convoy.

"In the region of Popelanz we continue to press the enemy. German attacks against a position near Shavil on the night of the 15th were successfully repulsed.

"On the Trans-Niemen front the same night we dislodged the enemy from the last trenches captured by him on the 15th.

"On the Narva front the night of the 15th the enemy took the offensive, capturing the village of Porady on the right bank of the Slwa. Enemy attacks against the village of Vile and Potchinal were repulsed with success. West of the Onulew our troops, retiring progressively toward a bridgehead on the Narw, delivered on the evening of the 15th a rear guard action of a stubborn character near the town Mahoff. Near the village of Krasnow we made a brilliant counter attack.

"In the direction of Lubin enemy attacks during the 15th on the front of Polas-Vychawa, east and north of Krasnik, were successfully repulsed.

"At dawn of the 15th the enemy captured Krasnowast (34 miles south of Lubin) on the Vistula, and crossed upstream. During the course of the 15th enemy attacks between the stream flowing from Rytchewitz toward the village of Plaski and the Vistula remained without result.

"On the right bank of the Vistula we repulsed near Krasnowast and the river Volzka many extremely stubborn enemy attacks. Nevertheless near the mouth of the Volzka and the village of Gavrinski the enemy succeeded in establishing himself on the right bank of this river, after which we judged it advisable to retire to our second line positions.

"In the region of the village of Grabowetz on the 15th we repulsed four enemy attacks on a wide front, supported by a curtain of fire from our artillery.

"On the Danister the fighting continued on the same front. In other directions there have been no serious engagements."

DENVER MAN SENDS TO GOTHAM FOR BARBER

NEW YORK, July 20.—One Zehn, lead barber of the Plaza hotel, took a 500-mile journey to shave a man and cut his hair.

That is, he started on a 450-mile jaunt, and he must come back. It was like this: W. G. Green of Denver, who has been at the Plaza, thought no barber could cut his hair and shave him as well as Zehn. Mr. Green went to White Sulphur Springs, Va. He thought he would be there for three days and suddenly changed his mind and decided to stay three weeks.

He needed a haircut and the management of the Plaza sent a telegram asking that Zehn be sent to White Sulphur Springs to serve Mr. Green as barber.

Fred Stern, managing director of the Plaza, knew that Mr. Green meant what he said and Zehn was sent at once. The fare is about $50. A shave and hair cut in the Plaza costs sixty cents.

ITALIANS PRESS AHEAD IN CADORE

Lesser Gains Made in Carnia. Austrians Recover Two Positions.

By Associated Press.

GRANADA, Switzerland, via Paris, July 20.—Despatches to the Tribune say that large gains have been made by the Italians since July 16.

According to these advices the Austrians have lost more than two miles in Cadore and lesser distances in Carnia, at Rochspite Gralina, Boudere and Hellerwald, on the Isone. The Austrians have recaptured two positions near Tolmino and north of San Luce.

The Tribune also publishes a dispatch from the Russian front, saying that on the night of July 17-18 a fierce hand-to-hand encounter occurred near the Itawka river in Russian Poland. After fifteen hours of fighting the Russians forced their opponents back several miles, capturing several hundred prisoners.

ITALIAN FLEET IS ACTIVE

By Associated Press.

ROME, Monday, July 19, via Paris, July 20, 12:10 a. m.—The following statement was given out at the ministry of marine here today:

"Since the last statement of July 7 the navy has intensified its action in co-operation with the aerial service against the enemy's coasts in the lower and upper Adriatic. The following operations on sea were carried out:

"In the Dalmatian archipelago—Cutting cables near islands, which, on coast of their proximity to the coast, constitute a serious center for observation for the enemy; destruction of depots for refueling barracks, factories and torpedo boats on one of the islands, and the capture of a few prisoners.

"In the Adriatic, a division composed of the old cruisers Varese, Francesco Ferruccio, Giuseppe Garibaldi and Vettor Pisani, approached the waters of Cattaro, manifesting its presence by bombarding and seriously damaging the railroads of the locality, while other warships, acting against Gravosa, destroyed a machinery depot, the barracks and several other military buildings and landed a party which made a reconnaissance of Guippan island. Enemy cruisers which had taken refuge at the Cattaro base, although of obsolete type, could have offered opposition to our old cruisers, did not come out from the port, but nevertheless kept up steam. While our ships were drawing off they made an attack and the German Garibaldi, after avoiding the first attack, was struck by a torpedo and sunk.

CREW MOSTLY SAVED. "The crew mostly disciplined and behaved with coolness, shouting several times, 'Long live the King,' before jumping into the sea in obedience to orders. Most of them were saved.

"Among the most remarkable aerial operations must be cited the bombardment by one of our dirigibles on the 15th of Trieste. The technical establishment was badly damaged in the previous raid of the 4th. This time bombs thrown on these important work shops started a fire so extensive as to be visible twenty miles away.

"Our seaplanes dropped bombs on Austrian despatches on the night of the 15th. The Fiume canal, near Pola. Two other seaplanes bombarded the battery near the Salvator lighthouse on the 14th. One of our dirigibles bombarded with excellent results the Triestino station and Trieste railroad yards. Montefiore on the 16th.

"On the 17th an enemy seaplane belonging to a small squadron which flew over Bari and Barletta was captured with two officers."

The torpedoing of the Giuseppe Garibaldi was announced in an official communication received yesterday from Rome.

DINUBA WILL HAVE LOWER WATER RATE

DINUBA, July 20.—Discussion of the proposal to reduce the city water rate occupied the greater part of the recent session of the city council, and while no definite action was taken, it is understood that at the next meeting the proposed reduction will be made and will go into effect August 1.

At present there are approximately 350 connections with the municipal system and only about 150 of these are on meters, the other subscribers being charged a flat rate. The flat connections on the meters pay $1.00 for the first 4000 feet and 10 cents a thousand thereafter. It is proposed to increase the meter connections at the rate of 10 a month until the entire service shall be so connected and reduce the charge to $1.00 for the first 5000 feet, 15 cents for each 1000 feet up to 15,000, and 10 cents a thousand, thereafter. It is also proposed to separate the business of the water works from other city business and take care of current expenses, bonded indebtedness and interest on bonds from receipts.

MAN THOUGHT TO BE EXECUTED RETURNS

SAN DIEGO, July 20.—Charlie A. Hoy, a San Diego, greatly exaggerated accounts of whose death in Mexico at the hands of "Colonel" Cantu were given currency by a local publication a few weeks ago, returned yesterday, a very tangible refutation of the erroneous report.

He said he was arrested by agents of Cantu's soldiers on a trumped-up charge of murdering or kidnapping the man who killed Charlie Gale at Mexicali, the ridiculousness of the charge being attested by accounts of Hoy's life and a member of the same lodge of Eagles. At one time, Hoy declared, he thought his chances of escaping alive were very slim, and as it was, he said, he was completely at the mercy of Cantu before he was liberated.

The girder was not strong and the wings collapsed. Mitchell fell to the ground and his left arm was broken near the elbow and he suffered slight internal injuries.

TEXT-BOOK MAKING.

The State Legislature has started trouble among the high-brows of California. Recently it passed enabling acts giving the State Board of Education authority to try to free itself from the bondage of copyrights held by eastern publishers. While California prints its own school books it really does little more than the "press" work and binding. The Bureau of Education buys the plates of the pages, with the type already set up, ready to place on the presses. A royalty is paid to the holders of the copyrights.
Now the State is figuring on a set of text books that shall be Californian in tone. A history and geography and a system of teaching penmanship are to be prepared and the commissioner of education has asked for manuscripts. A great deal has been justly said in disparagement of the school-book trust. The best that may be said in favor of it is that it has developed a very good lot of books. But if we are to print and bind our own school books it is desirable to be freed from the expense of royalties. Doubtless there are scores of educators and educated persons in this State who are competent to compile as good a textbook on most subjects of instruction as are now being published by the Eastern book concerns.
The replies from would-be authors to the request for manuscripts indicate that there is a veritable army of men and women able to write a history or geography.
But the different views displayed fill us with forebodings of unhappy and unpleasant results. Red Bluff is already indignant over the description of destruction caused by Mt. Lassen which appears in a recent geographical supplement issued by the State School Board. What if some amateur historian from the Southern part of the State should refer to the volcano as California's infant Vesu-vius, or a "youthful Mt. Pelee" that will not be satisfied in its work of devastation? Think of the acrimonious discussions that would arise from trying to fix the cause of the San Francisco disaster of 1906. Suppose some author should devote a page to San Francisco harbor, a quarter page to San Diego and forget all about San Pedro. Nothing short of a referendum general election would settle the matter. The writing of the political history of California by a local man presents possibilities for contention too appalling to contemplate.
Verily this business of local history and geography
making requires tact, diplomacy of the highest quality.
Perhaps it is unwise to include any reference to Watsonville apples or Petaluma chickens, lest the orange-growing and dairying districts start a civil war. Yet something should be done to give the youth of the present and the future facts concerning the State that will be useful in equipping him better to wage life's battles.

A PACIFIC CONGRESS.

The idea of a Pacific Congress of nations pledged to maintain peace in the Pacific basin, was definitely launched yesterday at the session of the conference of the Asiatic Institute. This institute counts among its members many men of international note—statesmen in this country, China and Japan, retired diplomats and a former president. Of vastly more importance than the suggestion for such a congress, however, is the basis thereof as outlined by two noted scholars, mature in years and experience.
Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, sent a letter to the conference urging that the general acceptance of the following principles is essential to the success of the proposed congress: First, strong, natural, national units, independent and free from aggression from without; second, the policy of the open door; third, no dominion on land or sea by any single power; fourth, a league of Pacific powers to secure peace and the freedom of the ocean. Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, American educator in Japan, student and writer of Oriental affairs, unveiled a local phase of the underlying motives of the proposed congress when he referred to the relations of this country with Japan in these terms:
We need a campaign of education and a new policy which seems to require several things—Congressional legislation giving adequate responsibility and authority to the Federal administration for the care and protection of allies; an immigration law that treats all races alike and that should admit only so many immigrants as we can assimilate, in order to preserve our institutions and prevent economic disturbances; aid to Americanize those admitted; naturalization of those admitted when they reach the required standards of citizenship.
The pointing out of the things needful to do is equivalent to saying that an unsatisfactory condition exists at present, though inuendo was made unnecessary by the positive declaration of the speakers that the situation as between the United States and the Orient was second only to that existing between the European governments in importance.
In fact the relations between America and the Orient are marked by many uncertain conditions that easily may be affected so as to bring affairs to the breaking point. This does not mean that the danger is immediate, but influences are in motion that are leading the two civilizations further apart. And as Dr. Eliot points out, policies must be changed and differences reconciled if the desired degree of safety and peace surely is to be attained. There is nothing to be gained in closing our eyes to the fact that the Pacific Coast, and California in particular, is one of the spheres in which discord has found root. Nor can we escape the conclusion that this coast will be one of the points of contact if a Pacific war should occur. Leaving the way entirely clear for the justification and maintenance of California's attitude Dr. Gulick suggests a manner in which racial discrimination may be avoided. He points out, in fact, that the responsibility for the enactment of discriminatory laws and the breaking of international treaties rests on the Federal Government alone.
Perhaps the most interesting suggestion of all is that the nations of the world shall return to China what they have taken from her. It is destined to meet with strong opposition—maybe it is impracticable for this very reason—but it would remove the cause for a lot of fears. It would bring the nations together in concerted action on a purely moral and humanitarian proposition and create the ideal atmosphere for the projected congress. Again it would eliminate the menace of Chinese militarism which is certain to arise if the West forces China into aggressive action and to seek safety and justice through war.

The new commercial era opened to the nations bordering on the two sides of the Pacific Ocean, the tremendous part the Panama canal is to play in this new commercial life makes it of the highest importance that every safeguard against political conflict be raised if that commercial era is to develop into a peaceful and prosperous progress. A congress of nations which will result in a thorough understanding of the conditions, the rights and duties of each nation seems to be the logical method to secure the guarantee of peace. The Pan-American Union has achieved some practical results in South America.
Perhaps the suggestions of the Asiatic Institute will do
as much for the Pacific.

MORE OFFICIAL STUPIDITY.

The solemn assent of the Immigration Bureau, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, are still making themselves obnoxious and ridiculous by their harsh administration of the laws applying to children who come to this country. Last week the daughter of Baron Moulin, formerly a member of the British Parliament and an intimate friend of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British Ambassador to the United States, came to this country in charge of a British official of high rank who was a friend of her father's. The immigration inspector was about to send the child to the detention pens at Ellis Island when the British Ambassador appeared on the scene. He was naturally very much displeased to think that the child of one of his dearest friends, who was coming to make his family a visit, was not to be allowed to land and that officials were threatening to send her back to England because she was not accompanied by one of her parents. The Ambassador at once communicated with the assistant immigration commissioner and had permission granted for the little girl to be taken ashore. On the same ship there was another child, Gabrielle Hunter, who was also held up by the stupid immigration officials, though her mother was on the pier waiting to meet her. Within the last three or four months many children under sixteen have had to go to Ellis Island although their mothers or fathers were waiting for them at the pier. The regulations of the Department of Labor or the laws say that no alien child under sixteen years of age who arrives in an American port unaccompanied by either of its parents shall be deported. This regulation, like most others, is subject to modification and may be suspended when the occasion warrants. It is time the Department of Labor began to inject a little common sense into the administration of the immigration laws. There is no sound reason whatsoever why respectable children, consigned to respectable parents who await them at the pier should be subjected to humiliation and annoyance when they arrive in this country. This is one of the things that makes foreigners hate us. If Mr. Caminetti could spare a few minutes from the consideration of personal and party politics, he might correct these abuses.

DEAR SIR:

The language of diplomacy differs considerably from the language of business. Otherwise President Wilson would address a letter to the German Government about like this: "If, as Herr Von Jagow says, Germany values so highly the ancient treaties between Prussia and the United States, still in force, why does he not respect them?" In the treaty of 1785, it is written:
If one of the contracting parties should be engaged in war with another power, the free intercourse and commerce of the subjects or citizens of the party remaining neutral with the belligerent power shall not be interrupted.
Yours Truly.

The case of Wu Ah Chuck, ordered to be deported by the immigration authorities, would seem to afford an opportunity for the exercise of a little saving common sense. This man entered the country in 1894, twenty-one years ago, under a technical evasion of the law, designed to protect the United States against Chinese laborers. He got in on the presumption that he was not a laborer but a merchant. Whatever he may have been at the time of his entry, he is now in fact merchant and a very considerable one, doing a business covering several states and aiding materially in both our import and export trade.
Under his present status he is entitled to be in the country. To send him out of it upon the plea that he came twenty years ago under false colors, may be technically sound, but it is bad business and bad diplomacy. Probably he will return as a merchant. But if he should not,
if his business should be destroyed, we shall have lost something that we would better not lose. Furthermore a technical judgment of this kind, involving hardship to a man who, whatever he may have been twenty years ago, is now perhaps entitled to residence here, cannot but prove an irritation to the Chinese government. Incidents like this oftentimes are more damaging to international goodwill than serious matters of difference. The case, as we have already said, is one calling not so much for a technical action as for the exercise of common sense
—a quantity sadly lacking in our immigration service.

General Villa's project for reorganizing Mexico looks well on paper but when we remember that Villa is only one of several military chiefs; that he has no shadow of legal title to authority; that he will certainly be opposed in the future as in the past by embittered rivals; that he is personally a man of no education and of no experience in administration; that on top of all he is a ruthless scoundrel and a blood-thirsty murderer—in view of these things, it would seem futile to deal with him. Then his scheme, fair as it appears, is subject to reservations which leave open the door for every kind of abuse. It will take a better man than Villa to bring peace, order and stability to Mexico.

Mr. John Hays Hammond, Jr., claims that he invented a thermic incendiary bomb, the most deadly war missile ever devised and that a German assistant stole the plans and passed them over to the German war office. He complains that it is pretty tough on a fellow to work so hard and then have stolen, or killed, the goose which was about to lay the golden egg.

In its recent five-billion-dollar war loan issue the British Government ushered in an interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent on government obligations, a rate of which it has never heretofore dreamed. The London market rate has been for years accepted the world over as the standard. The unprecedented pushing upward of the London rate seems likely to affect the government interest rates
the world over.

Replacing a $1500-dollar mural painting in a city hall
of a city with an assessment roll of $142,000,000 adds $0.0157 cent to the tax levy.

NOTABLE PERSONS.

Mrs. Isophere Goodin Ballhache, wife of John Mason Ballhache of San Francisco, a great-great-granddaughter of Major General Israel Putnam of Revolutionary War fame, was the first person to place a wreath of flowers yesterday at the shrine of the Liberty Bell in the Pennsylvania building at the Exposition.

That the factions of the north and south of Ireland, which at one time were arming for open conflict, became united through the European war, was the statement of E. B. Ryan, one of the wealthiest men of Ireland, now in San Francisco.

The Pope yesterday visited the Vatican Chancellery. He congratulated the employees on their good work and expressed pleasure in returning to the office where he began his career. Since 1878 the Pope has visited the Chancellery.

Mrs. Marshall Field of Chicago arrived yesterday on a visit to the Exposition.
Mrs. Field is at the St. Francis with her party, which includes Mrs. Eames, Mrs.
Worthington and Miss Dray.

At the conference of the Asiatic Institute yesterday in the Exposition grounds Colonel John P. Irish of Oakland was one of the principal speakers. He delivered an admirable address on our relations with Japan and the Japanese people.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Rev. James Carr, wife and daughter, reached home after a three months' absence in the East. They were met at the station on their return by a large delegation of young people from the church with a warm welcome and beautiful flowers. When they reached their home, they found it occupied by other friends, who greeted them most cordially.
The Carrs had a very pleasant time at the council room on July 1. Two new members were added to the council by installation.

ENGLAND'S RETALIATION.

At the present moment in England a heated discussion is being conducted in the correspondence columns of various newspapers regarding the best way of dealing with German war prisoners.
Many protests have been made against what is called the luxurious surroundings in which captured German officers are permitted by the government to live.
A German country house before paradise has been set apart as their place of residence and many of the letter-writers contend that the German officers are far more comfortably quartered than members of the same rank in the British barracks scattered throughout England. The question has been raised before parliament and the government has denied the existence of luxurious treatment. It is encouraging to see examples of a spirit of fair-mindedness and moderation in certain quarters of the English press.
The champions of retaliation are not having it all their own way. For example, we find the Spectator recommending as the proper guide for public feeling in the national attitude toward prisoners taken from the enemies the beautiful inscription on the monument erected at Chatham to French prisoners of war a hundred years ago.

Here are gathered together
The remains of many brave soldiers and sailors,
Who, having once been the foes, afterward the captives of England,
Now find rest in her soil.
Remembering no more the animosities of
war,
Or the sorrows of imprisonment,
They were deprived of the consolation of closing their eyes
Amongst the countrymen they loved,
But they have been laid in an honorable grave.
By a nation which knows how to respect
valor
And to sympathize with misfortune.
—From the Churchman.

A NEW WRITER.

St. John G. Irving, the latest Irish-English writer, says in a recent review
to be introduced to American readers.
The author of "Mrs. Martin's Man" and of "Alice and Family" is easily the most versatilely productive literary mind of the year. In the first sense—with no doubt implication—there is a two-fold and has the artist's attitude, both toward life and toward his work. A volume of his shorter writings, "The Story of a Storyteller," sketches dramatic, grotesque, satiric and of a degree of Irish nationalism
of confidence exemplified on London barracks—has just been published, called "The Story of a Storyteller." It is a recent work of the kind, save some of Galsworthy's, etc. Each of these papers is a thing complete in itself—a note sketch. The best of them fill the air with overtones.
The same critic says of Mrs. Atherton's new book: Gertrude Atherton writes to her "California: An Intimate History."
She writes as a "personal drama," because "the so many good men whom California has produced have made a bad bad history." Miss Atherton herself, however, has at least made a good story of this colorful and persuasive tale, in the telling of which she has been a good balancer of dead evidence, but even the warm partisan, creatively evoking for us her own living convictions of the past.
Preferences differ. Some people are so proud of the memory of the past that they like their history staid.
Some like their microbes alive. Mrs.
Atherton's volume is for the latter lot.

A Long Pole.
The longest flagstaff produced in British Columbia is soon to be sent to Great Britain as a gift from the provincial government, and it is planned to place it in the New Botanical Gardens a few which it was made was a perfect speci-

215 feet in length, is without flaw.

INVOCATION.

O Thou whose equal purpose runs
In drops of rain or streams of suns,

Be tender to the land we love!

Will Discuss Peace Outlook With Wilson

By Associated Press. (AP) — Mrs. J. Edgar Hoover, wife of the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is expected to leave for Chicago Wednesday, the earliest date for her departure. Mrs. Hoover recently returned home after visiting the principal offices of many of the belligerent and neutral nations as the representative of a women's peace movement. Mrs. Hoover has been informed from these sources that there is little prospect of an early peace in Europe.

AUTO TOLLS REDUCED.
Visalia, July 12.—The first result of the visit of Stephen T. Mather, assistant secretary of the interior, was the publication in Sequoia National forest of a new official order which materially reduces automobile tolls on and after this date. The toll for short trips over the park roads is reduced from $5 to $1.50 and a season

Summer Foods As Cause of Dyspepsia

Effect on Digestive Organs Responsible For Many Ills

Summer should be the season of most perfect health, but impure water and milk, unripe fruit and a tendency to over-indulge in acid foods and hot drinks results in a contrary condition in many people.

The effect of the average summer diet is to constipate, excite the bowels and disturb the digestion. This condition can best be corrected by the use of a mild laxative that has combined with it the elements of nourishment and strength. The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is gentle, yet positive in its effect and nature and in an easy, natural manner, without griping or other discomfort.

A dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin on retiring each night will regulate the digestive organs and insure healthy activity, irrespective of one's diet. A bottle of this splendid remedy should be in every household. It is not expensive and can be purchased for only fifty cents in drug stores everywhere. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 453 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

WALTER COULDN'T DECIDE ON A SUIT

Till He Saw the English Models at CHERRY'S for Sale ON CREDIT.

There was so much real class and "ginger" in their cut and so much quality in the material and finish that he was simply taken by storm and couldn't resist buying one to wear to his location.

He was certainly tickled when he found he could get it by paying a LITTLE AT A TIME with just a few dollars down.

A lot of fellows are going to be mighty glad that CHERRY'S will extend credit to them for their clothing, as vacation takes quite a lot of cash and many of us would have to give up our trip if we were compelled to pay cash for our suit.

You'll find CHERRY'S conveniently located at 528 15th St., this city, where they sell men's clothing only, and the women's store is at 515 13th.

WIFE OF TRAINER AL LEAN DIES SUDDENLY

Al Lean, well known in athletic and sporting circles as a trainer, was held in the Oakland city jail for several hours last night pending an autopsy as to the cause of the death of his wife, Bertha. It was at first thought that the woman was a victim of injuries inflicted by Lean. The autopsy, held at the Berkeley morgue, proved that death was due to fatty degeneration of the heart, and Lean was exonerated and released from custody.

Mrs. Lean is said to have been weakened by a long period of drinking, and her sister, Mrs. E. C. Clark, 160 Woolsey street, Berkeley, decided to take her to her home for treatment. When removing her from the Lean home, 598 Nineteenth street, Mrs. Clark discovered that her sister's condition was critical. She died while in the ambulance.

CONGRESS CONSIDERS ASIATIC INTERESTS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—The Asiatic Institute, which completed its session at the Panama-Pacific Exposition last night, proved one of the most interesting congresses yet held there. This morning the delegates are taking part in the meetings of the Panama-Pacific Historical Congress. This organization, which includes the Asiatic Institute and the American Historical Association, has prepared an interesting program and the discussion was along the same line as that which occupied the attention of the institute yesterday.

Prize Beauty to Be Goddess at Carnival

MISS MAE JOSEPHINE BENNETT, "CALIFORNIA PSYCHE," WHO WILL BE FEATURE OF NEWSPAPERMAN'S DAY.

Miss Mae Josephine Bennett, formerly of Berkeley, winner in a California beauty contest two years ago, has been chosen by the committee in charge of the "Newspaperman's Day" celebration at the exposition next Saturday to pose as "The Goddess of Song" in a Venetian night water carnival to be held in the lagoon fronting the Fine Arts Palace.

Miss Bennett, since winning the contest, has gained international distinction as one of the three most beautifully formed girls in the United States, an honor recently accorded her in a contest conducted by an Eastern physical culture magazine.

Miss Bennett is a California product. She was born in the shadow of Mount Shasta twenty-two years ago and is a granddaughter of Henry C. Bennett, one of California's earliest journalists and for many years a prominent political writer in San Francisco. Miss Bennett's close connection with a noted journalistic family was greatly responsible for her being chosen by the "Newspaperman's Day" committee to take such a prominent part in the day's program.

The Venetian night water carnival will be one of the picturesque events on "Newspaperman's Day." The carnival will begin at 8:15 in the lagoon fronting the Fine Arts Palace and will include the participation of such well-known artists as Senor Florentino Constantino, the famous Spanish tenor; Umberto Sacchetti, the Italian lyric tenor; the Pacific Saengerbund, directed by F. C. Schiller; the Beethoven Festival Chorus, led by Joseph Zuro, late of the Metropolitan grand opera company; the Princesses Athina and Amorita, by courtesy of George Jabour; the Sacchetti operatic sextette, including Mr. Sacchetti, Michele Giordano, Joseph Floridian, Amelia Vergeri, Bernice Holmes, directed by Louis Rocha; Cassara's band, the Golden Gate Glee Club, the Mandolin Club of Berkeley and Andrew L. Benson, the latter producing the transformation scene from his California opera, "The Birth of the Poppy."

The entire Venetian night water carnival will be free to all exposition visitors.

REALTY UNION LANDS IN FINANCIAL TROUBLE

SACRAMENTO, July 20.—The Realty Union, a corporation now in process of liquidation, probably will go into voluntary bankruptcy so that a competent receiver may direct sales now being made. Commissioner of corporations for the state recommended that the best course to pursue would be to form a new corporation to take the place of the Realty Union.

Several months ago the State Corporation Department refused to allow the Realty Union to issue $500,000 more of its investment certificates and $500,000 of its preferred stock. Depreciation of land values was the cause of the refusal. The company then started to wind up its affairs.

George Austin of Oakland appeared the company's property, which is principally around San Francisco Bay. The company's total assets approximated $335,000. The liabilities were more than $200,000.

D. A. R. SNUBBED? STORM BREWING

Committee Appointments Are Cause of Anger in Convention.

By Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Ore., July 20.—While Portland's Sons of the American Revolution are winning honors as the hosts of the National convention, there is a smoldering storm of indignation in their sister society, the Daughters of the American Revolution. It is caused by what the daughters term a flat snub of themselves by the Sons, or by some of their officers, and it found vent yesterday in several pointed statements. The trouble lies in the failure of the Sons to recognize the officials of the Women's Society in naming an advisory committee to assist in the entertainment of the national gathering. When the personnel of this committee was announced recently the name of not even one officer of the Daughters of the American Revolution appeared on the list. Both the Sons and the lay members of the organization pronounced this an intentional slight. The list of the Daughters is directed especially at Wallace McManis, who is a Portland man, candidate for president-general, election of which with other officers will be held today.

CLAXTON IS CRUX.
Probably the most important feature outside the election will be the question of adopting a resolution asking the removal of P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, who is accused of treasonable utterances and of insult to the flag. The resolution already introduced in the convention by Christopher W. Horr, of Seattle, senior vice-president of the Washington state society. The resolution of Mr. Horr was seconded by Arthur Eugene Johnson of Minneapolis.

The Sons of the American Revolution received a message from Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, left for them as the colonel paused for thirty minutes yesterday en route to San Francisco.

ANY MOLLYCODDLES?
"I hope," said the Colonel, "there are no mollycoddles among you."

"There would be no Sons of the American Revolution if the sentiments of the men in those early days had been: 'Peace first, or peace at any price' or 'If in 1776 the women had gone around singing a song like 'I Didn't Raise My Boy to be a Soldier.'"

Election of officers and adoption of resolutions will be the principal subjects before the convention Tuesday. A reception to visiting delegates was held tonight at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Rockey.

P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, came in for criticism a second time today, when President General Thurston touched upon Mr. Claxton's utterances in a section of his report in which he was opposing the activity of the American school peace league sounded in 1905.

DR. GULICK TO TALK.
SANDY GULICK, secretary of the Federal Council of Churches, will be the principal speaker tomorrow at the weekly luncheon of the League for Home Rule in Taxation. The meeting will be held at the Bohemian Cafe. "The New Labor Movement in Japan and Asia's Appeal to America" will be the subject for discussion.

CITY RAILWAY DECISION TODAY

Judge Troutt to Say if Municipal Cars Shall Run to Ferry.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—Presiding Judge Troutt will render his decision this afternoon as to whether or not the Municipal cars may run to the San Francisco Ferry.

Thirty-third avenue and California street will be allowed the privilege of the ferry boats. The court is to decide upon the removal of the cars shall be temporarily set aside until the merits of the case shall have been heard by Judge James Sewall, who will conduct the inquiry.

For a week counsel for the city and the attorneys for the United Railroads have been arguing on the merits of the case and Judge Troutt has been granting temporary stays of execution of the injunction. Having heard the arguments on both sides, he will now decide whether the stay shall be granted or not.

Superior Judge Stewart, in hearing the case in preliminary form, decided in favor of the United Railroads, ordering the cars off the streets. Mayor Rolph appealed to Judge Troutt and obtained a transfer of the case to Judge Sewall, who will conduct the main inquiry.

Matt L. Sullivan, former chief justice of the supreme court, has acted as Rolph's personal counsel, and he argued yesterday at great length in the closing hours of the hearing. The position of the mayor was criticized by Attorney William M. Cannon, representing the United Railroads, who declared that the city's chief executive should not have interfered in the litigation. He referred to the Municipal Railways as the mayor's pet project.

Both the mayor and the members of his counsel are convinced that the court will decide in favor of the city today. This will give the Municipal cars another lease of life, as it will be some time before Judge Sewall can hear all the evidence and render his final decision.

TROUBLE FOLLOWS PROSPERITY
It was all harmony in the domestic affairs of Joseph Berger, a former San Francisco hardware broker and his wife, Rose, while he was merely a clerk, but when riches came he "became restless," according to the complaint for divorce which she has filed. In addition to that the plaintiff says that her husband became infatuated with other women.

When You Wash Your Hair Don't Use Soap
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulled coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—A neighbor who lives in a rooming house in the city of San Francisco, a restaurant owner, was shot in the back and killed early today.

Police Forbid Women to Smoke in S. F. Cafes

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—Women may not smoke cigarettes and entertainers are deprived of the privilege of dancing with patrons in the Fillmore street cafes where the art of Terpsichore accompanies the sale of strong drink.

This order was made last night on a request made by acting Police Captain Matherson before he was transferred to the harbor district four months ago.
